THE statement made in these columns a few days ago, on the sutherity of a Shanghai paper, that Chang Yiu Huan, who has been selected by the Emperor to represent blm at the celebration of the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, will proceed to London win Canada seems to be correct and our evening contemporary published a special message on the subject to day confirming the news. His Excellency was to leave Peking to-day and it is stated that he is authorised, inter alia, to discuss with Lord Salisbury the delicate matters connected with the proposed increase of the Chinese Tariff.

THE China Gazette calls attention to what it styles "an instance of the extraordinary celerity with which the high and mighty heaven-decreed Imperial post does its work." It says :- The German steamer Aglata, carrying the Imperial Chinese mails (ahem i) from the British Colony of Hongkong, where they were handed over to the new alleged Post Office in all good falth on the 12th lust,, duly arrived at the what (Shanghai) carly on the afternoon of the 16th The ship came up direct and one would have thought the Imperial Chinese Postal Secretary would have made arrangements to have one o the numerous Customs launches meet the steamer and bring the mails up to Shanghal. He did nothing of the kind, however, and it was only 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon that the mail bags were leisurely taken off to the Imperial Chinese Post Office, where they in all probability still remain. Up to the time of writing (6 p.m., 18th) we have not received a single paper or letter of the Aglata's mail. Her mails were actually lying alongside the wharf for 28 hours before they were taken off.

FROM the statements in Parliament made by

Lord Salisbury and Mr. Ballour, it is, says the Globs, clear that Europe has so far opposed Greece in the interest not of Turkey but of peace, If Greece were allowed to selze and appropriate Crete, Turkey would adopt measures in her own defence which, as Mr. Balfour insists, would involve war-a war, moreover, of which the consequences could not be foreseen. As It is those who are directly concerned in the fature of South-eastern Europe, are preparing for emergencies. Hon I. The advantages accraing from a road of this sort are such as to warrant a large outlay, which could be spread over a number of years if necessary, but the commencement of the first section we think would be a very suitable step to take on such an auspicious occasion as the for first place against C. The only other comnetitors who stand any chance in these short races are W. H. HONGKONG, FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1897,

At the Harbour Office to-day a Marine Court of Enquiry was held regarding the loss of the British steamship Glamorganshire, official No. 29,651, Hugh Morris Vyvyan, master, off Cape St. James on 7th lust. The Court consisted of Comdr. Murray Rumsey, R. N. (President) Comdr. Keppel Wade (H.M.S. Centurion), Capt. R. Archibald (s s. Rmpress of China), Capt. H. Smith (s s. Dorfe) and Captain E. J. Butler (s.s. Chungsang).

Captain Vyvyan stated that his certificate was issued at Liverpool on March 3rd, 1891. The ship had her proper complement of officers and crew. They left Hongkong March 4, at 3.30 p.m., in ballast, for Salgon. The ship was drawing 13 ft. 4 in. forward and 17 ft. 8 in. aft. In the China Sea had fine weather until 8 s m. on the 7th, when they passed Cape Padaran they steered various courses after that by chart. At 4 pm., they shaped a course 66 W., 62 S., and were, roughly speaking, sa miles off Cape St. James. The position at 4 p.m. was ascertained by cross bearings of Cow Island and Caga Point. At about 5.15 she struck very heavily, sipping the bottom out from the stem to the engine room bulk-head. The vessel's speed at the time was about 112. Boats were at once swung out, and at 545 the chief officer was sent away with a boat to go to Cape St. James to wire to Salgon for assistance. Soon after midnight the weather increased and the boats were lowered. The ship filled and she was down by the head; the engine room, No. 1 hold and the forward compartments filled almost instantly. They sounded round her and found from 8 to 82 fathoms under bow and stern. After siriking the ship was bumping all the time, bow and stern both lifting. The funnel began to lift so that he lowered the starboard boats first. All the boats were provisioned and supplied with water at once The chief officer was unable to land at Cape St. James owing to wind and sea. He drifted up the river, was picked up and reached Saigon next morning. Lloyd's agent there sent a steamer and a diver. After midnight took all the people off owing to the increased bad weather and anchored the boats under les of the ship. The second mate went off in his boat ; and the third mate and witness remained, the best of his way to Cape St. James. the vesicl, but only went to Cape St. James. The steamer Glamorganshirs left Hongkong on the 4th March on a voyage to Saigon. That after being inside the Bretto Bank in the aftermoon of the 7th last., the ship struck and remained last. That the water rose to the level of the lower decks and it was evident that nothing could be done to save the ship. The Court is of opinion that no blame can be attached to the master for the casualty. That the ship appears to have been navigated well, in a proper and scampalike manner, and the ship was supplied with the latest Admiralty chart in which the danger is not marked.

No blame being attached to the Captain, his certificate was of course duly returned to him,

LUNGCHOW.

Recent intelligence from Lungchow, one of the Chinese Treaty Ports on the Tonkin frontier, indicates that quite a noteworthy amount of progress and development has been effected in that sleeply little hollow.

The French railway is being pushed along towards that town from the frontier, and it is anticipated that trains will run through there from up through the drying-room above, about two years hence. A glance at the map will The following is the list of insurances of show the telative positions of this place and the premites:newly opened ports on the West River and MAIN BUILDING AND MACHINERY-TOTAL LOSS. demonstrate more clearly than words the object of the French railway extension in that direction,

The climate of Lungchow appears to be salubrious, and the little band of ploneers are all well. The Commissioner of Customs, Mr. H. B. Morie, has commenced the new Customs offices and residences, which will be finished in September, when the staff will be transfered to them, and they then expect to "be much more comfortable." They are but modest four-roomed bungalows, but "the site is fine, the Custom House and residences stretching, along the bank of the river for 900 feet, and the view is not equalled by that from any Customs properly in China, now that Tamaul is gong, The country is pretty, and there are pleasant walks everywhere when it is fine." Lungchow also has the advantage of ladles society, Mrs. H. B. Morse being there at present to brighten up everybody and everything, and keep the little community thoroughly civilised.

the All Jure the Franco-Chinese railway to Lungchow will not be worth a sow to Messiches les Françals for two years at least, It might be well were our Galife neighbours to accept the situation as it is and not long for what can never be. They wanted to nullify with their railway all advantages that might be resped by British and German traders through the opening of the West River, and it is evident that they have counted their chickens before they were hatched. At least, that is the commercial view of their latest faux pas, but it is possible of course that the railway will yet serve some useful strategic and political purpose. Who knows?

LOFD SANDHUFST ON THE SITUATION. THE BASIS OF COMPENSATION TO BE RAFTERS NOT RENTS.

HOMBAY, February 27th.

The most important public pronouncement that has fallen from the lips of H.E. Lord Sandburst in regard to the existing plaque epidemic was that which he addressed to the members of the Chamber of Commerce, in the Council Room of the S:cretarist, yesterday | ment. afternoon. ... It had originally been intonded that the deputation should simply consist of members of the Committee, but in deference to the wishes of Lord Sandhurst himself, the members of the Chamber generally were invited to attend. The response to the invitation was very large, scarcely any of the firms connected with the Chamber being, unrepresented. Lord Sandhurst was accompanied by his Private Secretary, Mr. Heaton, T.C.S., Mr. J De C. Atking, I.C.S., who in his capacity as Secretary in the General Department has to deal with communications from the Chamber in regard to the epidemic, was also present. Mr Abercromble, the chaleman, briefly introduced the deputation to Lord Sandhurst, and echoed the feelings of all present when he said that they would listen with intense interest to the remarks his Excellency might have to make.

Lord Sandhurst spoke for more than half-anhour with great expresiners and deliberation. The figures be quoted necessitated frequent reference to manuscript notes, which Mr. Heaton departments was the daying-room, in which a held ready to hand. This room was locked, but a few interests of the city at this time of crisis, the minutes after the workpeople icit it was seen to Governor admitted that there was no body of men be in fismes. The alarm was given to the in this city who were more entitled than the members of the Chamber to lay their views upon the present situation before Government. Knowing as he did that it did not always require extreme circumstances to call for the strong expressions from individuals collectively or alone, he would not have been surprised if the letter he had received from them had been severe both upon the Government and the Executive of the Municipality. But this was not the case, for their letter was openof studious moderation. RUSSIA AND GREAT BRITAIN.

A SUGGESTID "DEAL" IN THE FAR EAST. Some attention was directed by English papers, previous to the development of the Cretzn trouble, to the sudden change of view by the Tear on the question of consenting to coerc-Ing the Sultan by force. On November 17th the Tear, after reading a telegram of Lord Sellabury's in which the English modus operandi was unfolded, told M. Chichking that "it was Impossible for him (the Tsar) to agree to a cic.ve measures egainst the Sultan," But six days later, on November 23rd, at another interview. the lar to'l M. Chichkine that, provided the Powers were manimous, Russla "weald not refuse to take into consideration I: 3 Saitsbu.,'s proposal for the consideration of e.c.ve messurer." "Why did the Tatr change his m'nd?" asks the Westminster Gazette. "These was nothing, so far as we samuater, in what happened in Turkey itself between the two dates to account for it. Was there any 'considuration! (in the legal conse of the we.d) for the promise to consider! coercive measures? And, if so, was it famished by Lad Salisbury? We remember, of course, that on a former occasion it was Lord Selisbury who gave up Heligoland to clinch the bargain with Germany over the partition of Alica. Has there been any similar transaction here with Russia? It is not possible to give a definite and conclusive answer to this interesting question, but as a fact a very possible consideration for Russ'n's change of attitude would be Lord Salisbury's assent to the new Russo-Chinese Treaty. It is quite true that the text of the Treaty was published in the North-China Dally News several weeks tafore the date of the Tsar's adhesion to Lord Salisbury's plan, but it does not follow that the assent of this country had been obtained, and it may be that the Traonly consented to coercion in the Near East when he knew that no objection would be taken to this last development of Russian policy in the Far East.---

PRESENTATION TO MR. HERBER 2 MORRIS.

LONDON, February 10th. When the retirement, at the end of last year, of Mr. Herbert S. Morris, who has been associated for the past thirty years, with the Nei h China Insurance Company, was announced, his numerous friends were unwilling that the event should pass without some acknowledgment on their part. It was therefore proposed that Mr. Morris's withdrawal from City life should be made the occasion of a presentadon of plate, and subscriptions towards that object were invited. There were collected by Mr. J. Malcolm Lyon, and responded to by some seventy of Mr. Morris's friends. The service of plate, which was a very hardsome one, included a tea-tray, having a pierced and chased panther and musk border. with a richly hand-engraved centre, a tea and coffee service and tex-kettle, richly chased with tensissance ornament after Penvenuto Cellini. and a prir of five-framed candlesticks. On the tray was the following inscription :-- " " Presented to Herbert S. Morris, Esq by rayanty business friends as a token of their exteem and regard on the occasion of his relitement from the North Chine Insurance Company, Limited, 1897."

The presentation was made on the 18th Sugar Refining Co., Ltd., at the General Great Winchester Street. E.C., by Str Edwyn ment of Accounts to 31st December, 1896. Sandys Dawes, K.C.M G., who to a few wellchosen words spoke of the unvarying courtesy will be CLOSED from the 13th to 27th March, Luren Sugar Refining Co., Ltd., at the and attention that Mr. Morris hed always both days inclusive. shown in the conduct of the business of the 1.30 p.m.-V. R. C. Athletic Sports at Happy North China Insurance Co-pany, which Sir Edwyn said was a company conducted on p.m .- Aunual dinner of the H.K. Football | co-operative principles, that were excellent and such as he always desired in his own business. Mr. Morris replied feelingly, and thanked all his friends not only for the handsome service that they had then presented him, but also for the assistance and goodwill they had always rendered him in carrying out his duties in the North China Insurance Company, Not alone the handsome present, but their kindness, past and present, went very near his heart.

With a vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. Lyon, to Sir Edwyn Dawes, the gathering concluded. 1896.

It is not properly any part of my business to enforce lessons in ethics; therefore I commonly leave that responsible task to those whose vocation it is. But no man can continually write on the subject which constitutes the burden of these essays without now and then running plump against a mighty fact in morals. If you will be good enough to read the following short letters I will then try to show why I was moved to speak as I have spoken.

PLUMP AGAINST A BIG FACT.

"My daughter Annie Jane," writes that your girl's mother, " now five years age, was a fine healthy child up to March, 1891, when she began to sieken of food she took came up. She lost strength rapidly the same year was also Declared on the COMand within a fortnight she was thin as a rate, being PANY'S ORDINARY SHARES. not much else than skin and bone. For days and days she laid in a half-conscious condition, scarcely the gist instant, moving hand or foot, and to all appearance lifeless. I had a doctor attending her for four weaks, and he said the child was suffering from indigestion, yet, so far as we could see, his treatment had no effect. My busband and I, and all that saw the poor baby, thought she was slowly dying, and we were almost heart-broken at the thought of losing her.

WNothing that we gave her did the slightest good, and the child was fading away, when one day, towards. the end of April, a lady called, and after seeing Annie Jane, sovised us to use Mother Seigel's Syrup. She said she had known the lives of many children saved by this medicine who were down with the same com plaint. I hurried to get a bottle from Mr. Routly the chemist, in Susan's Road, and began giving it small doses. In less than twenty-four hours the child began to est, the sickness stopped, and we could see a change for the better. We kept on giving the Eastbourne, August Let, 1895.

My son Joseph," writes Mr. Joseph Bond, of will be given, which must be forwarded to the Salter's Green, Mayfield, Sussex, "was never strong. Company in exchange for SCRIP. He did not come on like other children. He was weak, slokly, and puny. He ate but little, and was Nothing gave him strength. In February, 1894, his feet and ankles began to feeter. Next three abscesses formed on his neck and under the chin, making deep holes. He was merely skin and bone. The abscesses seemed to be exhausting his life's blood. He was in a doctor's care five months, but got no better. From July (1894) he had four months' treatment at the Tunbridge Wells Hospital, without benefit. The doctors gave him medicines and cod-liver oil, but nothing strengthened-him-

"In December (1894) I concluded to take the case into my own hands, and gave him a medicine that We kept giving him the Syrup, and he grew better every day. The abscesses soon healed, and he is now you wish and refer inquirers to me. (Signed) Joseph and no CLAIMS OF ALTERATIONS will be subse-

sake was it? Wire do sine majority of the framen race die in infancy and chadhood? That bundle of laws and forces called "natu" !" has no pity, no mercy. Obey and live; dischey and perish, that's the whole story.

Then how does Mother Edgal's Syrup orto? It cures by bringing the diseased and suffering body back where nature is hand can reach it. It puts the derailed coach back on the metals, it re-launches the stranded ship. The radical trouble of both Annie Alexander and Joseph Bond was of the digestion, the first (a more baby then) having been selzed with scute indigestion, and the body having, as his father tells us, been born with a fe ible storrech. Hence, in his case, the bad blood and the abscines by which nature sought to remove it. Will parents take warming from these instances? I hope so. Watch the little ones and use Mother Selgel's Syrup whenever you see them incline I to droop or languish, -Adad.
